ELLETTSVILLE POLICE DEPARTMENT UPGRADES FLEET

ELLETTSVILLE, INDIANA (July 30, 2017): Over the last few months, the Ellettsville Police Department has purchased four brand new 2017 Ford Interceptor Police Utility Vehicles to replace our older, more worn vehicles. This brings the total number of Ford Interceptor Police Utility Vehicles that the department has in its fleet to 6. On July 26th, Town Marshal Jimmie Durnil and Ellettsville Town Council Member Brian Mobley presented the keys to one of the new vehicles to Deputy Marshal Alva Bohall. Deputy Marshal Bohall has been with the Ellettsville Police Department since joining the department as an unpaid Reserve Deputy Marshal in January of 1996 and was later hired as a full-time Deputy Marshal in January of 1998. Since that time, Deputy Marshal Bohall and the other long-time Ellettsville police officers have seen the department move from the once standard, Ford Crown Victoria Interceptor, to the Dodge Charger Pursuit Vehicles and now to the Ford Interceptor Utility Vehicles. When asked about being issued one of the new vehicles, Deputy Marshal Bohall said "I really like the functionality of the new vehicles. I think they will serve the Town well in all seasons for many years to come."
